DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 16, 17, 18, 24, 25, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 40, 50, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 59, 60, 61, 62, 64, 65, 66, & 67 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Ryan et al (US 5,844,988) discloses a modification and lowering in level of the front porch area as seen in Figure 15b and 15c; however, Ryan et al is not prior art under 35 USC 103 with the instant application. Therefore the prior art of record fails to teach, disclose or suggest a “method wherein the incorrect color burst signal is added to the at least a portion of a horizontal sync pulse, and the selected portion which is lowered in level is in at least a portion of the front porch area or in a portion of the active video toward the end of a video line” as disclosed in Claims 3, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 16, 17, 18, 24, 25, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 40, 50, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 59, 60, 61, 62, 64, 65, 66, & 67.

Wrobleski et al discloses a method for lowering the horizontal blanking interval and adding color bursts of incorrect phase or frequency (Column 12 Lines 5-45); however, fails to disclose the method of determining the average picture level which thereby adjusts the horizontal blanking level. Therefore, the prior art of record fails to teach, suggest, or disclose a method of “adjusting the lowered levels of the portion of the horizontal blanking level and/or of the pseudo horizontal sync in response to the average picture level” as disclosed in Claim 22.

Wrobleski et al additionally discloses a method for enhancing chroma distortion consisting of lowering the level of selection portion of the horizontal blanking interval to a value lower than the respective level (Figure 1b). It is further seen the enhancements are made through color bursts which are placed in the back porch area as seen in Figure 2a; however, fails to add modifications to the front porch area. Therefore, the prior art of record fails to teach, suggest, or disclose a method of “lowering the level of selected portion of the front porch area prior to the horizontal sync to a value lower than the respective normal level” as disclosed in Claims 44-46 and 66-67.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled “Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance.”
